Hey Alex, how's it going? Are you ready for our final exams next week?

Hey Alex, how's it going? Are you ready for our final exams next week?

Tell me about it! It feels like just yesterday we started. Well, I've been studying like crazy and making detailed study guides for each subject. Hopefully, that'll pay off.

That's a good strategy! I've been trying to stay on top of my readings and notes all along, but there's so much to cover. I'll definitely be doing some intense cramming this weekend.

I know the feeling! But hey, sometimes cramming works wonders, too. Which exam are you most worried about?

Probably the Chemistry exam. It's always been my weakest subject, and I've struggled with it all semester. How about you?

I'm a bit nervous about the History exam. There's just so much to remember, all those dates and events. But I've been attending review sessions, which have been helpful.
